Rock N Roll Hall Of Fame Includes Radio Legend Geno Michellini In Permanent Exhibit

"It Was Magic. It Was Everything You've Heard And Imagined And More. You Had To Be There."
Geno Michellini, Radio Legend

Malibu, California, July 12, 2012 - The Rock n Roll Hall of Fame finally came to their senses, and have included radio legend Geno Michellini in the permanent exhibit of the 100 most influential deejays of all time. Geno is in fine company with the inclusion of Tom Donahue, Alan Freed, Wolfman Jack and the Queen of the Flying Eye Radio Network, Dusty Street. That's right folks, the Flying Eye Radio Network has two hosts in the Rock n Roll Hall of Fame.

Michellini made quite a name for himself while working for well-known California stations KOME, KMEL, and KLOS. Known for his creation of the 5 O'clock Funnies on KLOS and sarcastic wit, Michellini has spent his life in a profession that has given him unforgettable memories and a unique perspective of the music industry. The counterculture of the 1960s, and his newfound discovery of rock 'n roll had given him a passion for music that was relatively foreign to him at the time.

The introduction of rock 'n roll across America opened up a sense of freedom and euphoria that had never before presented itself to the younger generation. Michellini had come into the industry just as it was evolving. He loved the idea that he was required to become a music aficionado and get paid for it. There was a constant necessity to keep up from knowing the latest records, new artists, song and album titles and, artist tour dates. There were no boundaries aside from basic regulations from the FCC, no restrictions placed on lyrical content of music, views expressed by the stations, or any specific formats that stations had to follow.

At the time of his firing, Geno had some of the highest ratings in KLOS history. Despite his popularity, he was unable to tolerate an environment that squelched his creativity. Having ditched corporate radio long ago Michellini currently works with former entertainers and jocks on the Flying Eye Radio Network. The station has weekly podcasts Monday thru Friday, and there are updates on music news, benefits for ailing musicians, and NEW music. Geno Michellini's Turntable Hits is available on Friday, and is a throwback to his early days in free form radio. He meshes all artists and genres, from Mayer Hawthorne to Steve Winwood. Along with music, he also integrates his new creation, The Flying Eye Funnies with the likes of Richard Pryor, George Carlin, and so many more.

Flying Eye Radio Network is an Internet radio station which began broadcasting in 2007. Flying Eye broadcasts the entire spectrum of musical colors. Every single type of music is represented on the Flying Eye Radio Network. Jazz, rock, hip hop, R & B, country, rockabilly, and classical are just some of the pieces that make up this musical puzzle. It's a cerebral surge of auditory ambition. The lines of music are not blurred they are erased. Each person has the ability to pick whatever music they want, there is no list, no consultant, and there is no one telling anyone what to play or what not to play. Flying Eye also features numerous unsigned artists that are out there making a living, touring and playing, and we make a concerted effort to ensure their music has a captive audience on a regular basis.

The Queen of the Flying Eye, Dusty Street, sets the tone for the week on Monday. She broadcasts semi-live from the Rock n Roll Hall of Fame in Cleveland, Ohio. Her knowledge and ability to weave everything into a musical theatre masterpiece every single week is truly art in motion.

Tuesday finds Rock Rhythm & Roots hosted by Golden Mic Laureate Steve Cosio. It is the music lover's radio show. Steve brings the music of Austin and surrounding areas that we would never hear. Thursday finds Flying Eye Radio Network founder and Grand Poohbah, Andy Goldfinger offering the listener a potpourri of musical comestibles that encompass the entire musical spectrum. Nothing but trouble finishing the week in our own Radio Legend Geno Michellini and his Turntable Hits. Geno's show is a tribute to what FM radio used to be. He is untethered and unleashed! Geno provides laughter therapy with the Flying Eye Funnies, and the traditional weekend send off with the Bang The Drum ceremony. There is none better at intermingling the nuances of music, history and comedy into a cohesive understandable art form. The beauty is it's a podcast and can be listened to any time, via the web, or downloaded to your favorite Mp3 device or telephone.
