This Week On The Flying Eye Radio Network's Music Gumbo Host Andy Goldfinger Sits Down With Singer-songwriter Jann Klose

"If You're Going To Be Crazy, You Have To Get Paid For It Or Else You're Going To Be Locked Up."
Hunter S. Thompson, American Philosopher

Malibu, California, April 17, 2014 - This week on the Flying Eye Radio Network's Music Gumbo, host Andy Goldfinger sits down with singer-songwriter Jann Klose.

Known as a versatile singer-songwriter, Klose has released four albums and two EPs as a solo artist. His album Reverie released in 2008 followed by his EP, Sacrifice, in 2010, both were indie successes. His most recent album, Mosaic has gained him much critical acclaim, being nominated four times at the Independent Music Awards. Mosaic even entered the Roots Radio charts at #22, above Wilco, Sheryl Crow and Bruce Springsteen, and was on first round ballots for the 2014 GRAMMY Awards in the categories of Album of the Year and Pop Vocal Album. His music can also be heard in the GRAMMY-nominated Healthy Food For Thought, on MTV Cribs, and in the movie Dead Broke.

Born and raised in Kenya and Hamburg, Klose's multi-cultural roots lend a unique sound and style to his music that the Washington post describes as a "soaring voice" that "wins over the listener." It has even been said by the LA-ist that Jann "can be accurately described as the man chosen to carry on the legacy of great musicians like Tim Buckley and Paul McCartney."

Since coming to America as an exchange student in Cleveland, Jann has had much success, having shared the stage with such artists as Brett Dennen, Pete Seeger, and Les Paul. Klose also found success in the theatre, performing in the touring productions of the Broadway shows Jekyll & Hyde and Jesus Christ Superstar. He even was cast to portray the Pinball Wizard in The Who's Tommy. With a strong fan-base, Klose keeps a steady touring schedule around the US, Europe and Asia, playing about 200 shows a year. Tune in to this week's addition of Music Gumbo to hear more about this talented artist.
