Sitting With A Standell Tony Valentino Stops By The Flying Eye Radio Network

"The Music Business Is A Cruel And Shallow Money Trench, A Long Plastic Hallway Where Thieves And Pimps Run Free, And Good Men Die Like Dogs. There's Also A Negative Side."
Hunter S. Thompson, Writer, Philosopher

Malibu, California, November 01, 2012 - This week's addition of the Flying Eye Radio Network's Music Gumbo is sure to entertain as host Andy Goldfinger sits down with music legend Tony Valentino. Known as one of the "Godfather's of Punk," Valentino is best recognized for being the founding guitarist of the popular 60s band, The Standells. Formed in Los Angeles during the early 1960s, the garage rock band hit big with their song "Dirty Water" in 1966. Valentino created the famous guitar riff for the classic song that has been listed in the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame's "500 Songs that Shaped Rock and Roll." The song has also become an anthem to Boston athletics and can be heard after every Boston Red Sox home victory and during Boston Celtics and Boston Bruins home games. Valentino and The Standells can even be seen in an episode of the popular 60s sitcom, The Munsters, playing a cover of the Beatles' "I Want to Hold Your Hand."

Join in for Music Gumbo's interview with Tony Valentino airing on November 1 to hear more about this "Godfather of Punk" that has toured with such bands as The Rolling Stones, Sonny & Cher, Paul Revere & the Raiders, and Otis Redding. Previous Music Gumbo interviews include Little Feat members Paul Barrere and Bill Payne as well as David Lindley, Coco Montoya, Jason Sinay, and Jim Messina.

Flying Eye Radio Network is an Internet radio station which began broadcasting in 2007. Flying Eye broadcasts the entire spectrum of musical colors. Every single type of music is represented on the Flying Eye Radio Network. Jazz, rock, hip hop, R & B, country, rockabilly, and classical are just some of the pieces that make up this musical puzzle. It's a cerebral surge of auditory ambition. The lines of music are not blurred they are erased. Each person has the ability to pick whatever music they want, there is no list, no consultant, and there is no one telling anyone what to play or what not to play. Flying Eye also features numerous unsigned artists that are out there making a living, touring and playing, and we make a concerted effort to ensure their music has a captive audience on a regular basis.

The Queen of the Flying Eye, Dusty Street, sets the tone for the week on Monday. She broadcasts semi-live from the Rock n Roll Hall of Fame in Cleveland, Ohio. Her knowledge and ability to weave everything into a musical theatre masterpiece every single week is truly art in motion.

Tuesday finds Rock Rhythm & Roots hosted by Golden Mic Laureate Steve Cosio. It is the music lover's radio show. Steve brings the music of Austin and surrounding areas that we would never hear. Thursday finds Flying Eye Radio Network founder and Grand Poohbah, Andy Goldfinger offering the listener a potpourri of musical comestibles that encompass the entire musical spectrum. Nothing but trouble finishing the week in our own Radio Legend Geno Michellini and his Turntable Hits. Geno's show is a tribute to what FM radio used to be. He is untethered and unleashed! Geno provides laughter therapy with the Flying Eye Funnies, and the traditional weekend send off with the Bang The Drum ceremony. There is none better at intermingling the nuances of music, history and comedy into a cohesive understandable art form. The beauty is it's a podcast and can be listened to any time, via the web, or downloaded to your favorite Mp3 device or telephone.
